

How can cities confront global challenges? What role can co-production play in this? The FAIRVILLE final conference will bring together public institutions, practitioners and external actors who can get things done. It will be a chance to exchange ideas and the role co-production can play in the future of cities. Drawing on the experience of cities like Athens, Berlin, Brussels, Marseille, the challenges they face and urban transformation, including political claims, limits, including urban support more durable breakdown? What role can co-production play in the future of cities? The FAIRVILLE final conference will bring together public institutions, practitioners and external actors who can get things done. It will be a chance to exchange ideas and the role co-production can play in the future of cities. Drawing on the experience of cities like Athens, Berlin, Brussels, Marseille, the challenges they face and urban transformation, including political claims, limits, including urban support more durable

Paris

16 -17

Nov. 2026

Brussels

18 Nov. 2026

Fairville
Final Conference

Co-producing Democratic Cities in Unequal Times

Register here:
<https://www.fairville-eu.org>

